School Name: Colorado Readers (Begin typing the first few letters and select from the drop-down menu.)
User name: read Password: read
3. Click on submit, select a book and start reading!

Read aloud every day

Make sure your child sees you reading and writing, whether it's reading the morning newspaper or making a shopping list.

Encourage your child to learn new words

Introduce your child to new words every day. Talk about what these words mean and how they are used.

Write away

Encourage her to write letters or post cards to friends and relatives over the summer, to keep a journal, make a summer scrapbook, or to write stories and poems.

At the library

Help your child get a library card

Visit the library frequently and look for summer reading programs

Help your child select books at the right level

If your child is reading smoothly and understands what she is reading, the book is probably at a good level for her.

Great summer reading habits

Keep it fun

Don't set rules about reading for a certain amount of time or reading a minimum number of pages, and don't make reading a punishment — keep it fun so that it's something that your child wants to keep doing!

Talk about what your child is reading

Ask your child to tell you about what she is reading. Libraries may also offer book discussion groups for children, or online book chats with authors.

Listen to audio books

You can find these books at the library.
